51st Annual
Circle K International Convention
August 12-15, 2006

Call to Convention

While it may seem hard to believe, now is the time to start thinking about attending the 51st Annual Circle K International Convention in historic Boston, Massachusetts, August 12-15, 2006. Whether you're cheering for the Red Sox at Fenway Park or window-shopping on Newbury Street, Boston will be filled with excitement.

This year's convention schedule has been altered slightly to ensure that attendees will have as much fun as possible by designating time for districts to experience the sights and sounds of Boston on Sunday evening. In addition to the Service Fair and Meet the Candidates Forum, an exclusive luncheon is scheduled to recognize club officers for demonstrating membership growth. We have put together an amazing program of top-notch speakers, educational forums, top quality general sessions, a dance, and much, much more! The Convention Host Committee is hard at work and eagerly awaits your arrival in Boston.

I am looking forward to a convention full of energy, enthusiasm, and open-mindedness. International Convention is one of your only opportunities to meet hundreds of Circle K'ers from all over the world. The program will allow you to gain insight and recommit yourselves to excellence in serving your homes, schools, and communities. It is important you speak to your Kiwanis advisor now so your club can receive financial assistance to attend this important event. I would suggest taking advantage of the one-third plan when fundraising.

International Convention will be a time to celebrate this past year's successes and prepare for next year's achievements. If our organizational goals are met, your district governor will be able to "Pie the President."

If you've never been to convention, now is the time. Join me for a week of fellowship, motivation, and business. Because with Circle K International, "Navigating the Seas of Service" has never been so much fun!

Josh Shipp

Josh Shipp is still in his early 20s, but you wouldn't know it from his resumé. He's written books, shared the stage with Bill Cosby, and hosted a reality show. And he's already established an international reputation as an inspiring speaker with a simple and entertaining, yet challenging message.

Abandoned and abused as a child, Josh was able to triumph over the tragedy, and he continues to encourage everyone to overcome struggles and live life to the fullest. And he does so through the power of laughter. Josh is animated and hilarious, and his speaking style is challenging and thought-provoking.

Josh has spoken to more than one million people about how his opportunities in life have made him who he is today. For seven years, he has inspired, empowered, and entertained audiences all over the world. Josh's ability to connect with the audience is a rare gift, and his message on Sunday evening, August 13, is one you won't want to miss.

Service Fair and Service Project

For many Circle K'ers, the Service Fair is one of the most exciting events of convention! Set for Tuesday, August 15, the fair will showcase district projects and service partner information. Don't miss out! Be sure to attend to learn more, get motivated, and have fun!

In conjunction with the service fair, Circle K members will participate in the convention Service Project. What is the project? It's too exciting to list here, so stay tuned.

Visit www.circlek.org for the latest and greatest information.

Workshops

Want to learn more about Circle K? Need new ideas on membership recruitment and public relations? If so, you're in luck!

The convention schedule is packed with four days of educational workshops devoted to Circle K topics such as officer training, membership, leadership training, team building, personal development, and much more.

The City of Boston

One word describes Boston: Alive!

Whether you're drifting through Boston Common in a swan boat, riding amphibious Duck Tours up the Charles River, or walking the Freedom Trail to Paul Revere's house, you'll notice a vibrant pulse to "Beantown" life. Fenway Park still hums with the excitement of the Boston Red Sox's 2004 Major League Baseball World Series Championship. Newbury Street sparkles with fashionable shops, including a mammoth Virgin Records and a vintage-clothing store called "The Closet." Intelligent beings stalk the campuses of Harvard University and Boston College. Boston is alive and waiting for you!

Must-See Boston Attractions

There's a lot to do and see in Boston. It's a booming metropolitan city filled with New England culture—the streets are packed with history and colonial tradition. In fact, it would be hard to see all of Boston's greatness in one day. Make the most of your trip, and check out some of Boston's exciting attractions. Here are a few you won't want to miss:
